

Dear Parents and Carers,

Following the visit to the school by Ofsted shortly before Easter, I am pleased to publish the report to you.

We are very pleased that the two Ofsted inspectors that visited us recognized that we are taking the necessary steps to receive a “good” judgement at the next inspection. They both said how much they had enjoyed their day with us and thanked us for making their task of information gathering at the visit very smooth. They also commented on the support from parents of the school that they saw through the parent survey responses that you completed.

They left us with two areas to continue to focus on, which you can read about in the report, and I am pleased to say that these were areas that we had already identified and were working on before the visit. Following their recommendations, we have continued to work on these areas and have already made significant steps towards those areas.

Yours sincerely,

D. McGachen
Headteacher
